

Security Policy: Where Words Meet Actions

The Information Security Policy is what employees require for the guidance and understanding of any security program

The Information Security policy is the foundation for your entire security program. It reflects what senior management wants all employees to understand, comply with, and exemplify every day. This policy also shows customers, vendors and even competitors that your organization is serious about security.

Security policy has to speak to employees in language that they can understand, while at the same time covering all aspects of data protection. A document of this magnitude is usually left to technical staff and therefore becomes a technical policy. This common pitfall prevents your organization from effectively delivering the security program goal of mitigating the business impact. If a policy in fact already exists, often times it is rarely updated and quickly forgotten – leaving you with no policy at all.

One size does not fit all, and every organization has diverse considerations. Large consulting firms may provide you with instant policies “out of the box”, but Secure IT Experts knows that you operate outside of any box. Your policies should reflect your organizational culture and achieve your specific business enabling goals. Secure IT Experts invests the time it takes to understand your people, processes and technology before the first word is even written. Remember, we are not writing A security policy, we are writing YOUR security policy.

Let the Secure IT Experts make it happen

When it comes to policy, you want it done right. When it comes to information security policy, you want it right and most importantly it should be successful. We measure this success by how effective the policy statements are understood and being achieved within your organization. This is where the experience of seasoned professionals provides values and turns words into actions. Secure IT Experts are world-class policy experts, with decades of experience in policy creation, presentation, and implementation. Let the Experts set your vision in motion and manage the policy creation process from beginning to end.

Create Policy that provides value and is easily understood

Policy is clearly stated management intent

Good Policies are easily remembered

Successful Security programs depend on policy

“Information Security policy is not only important for your employees and vendors to understand, its proper creation and delivery can be a requirement in audits, legal compliance and in some cases business partnerships ”

“World Class Security Expertise for Everyone”

© Secure IT Experts – All Rights Reserved

www.SecureITExperts.com * info@SecureITExperts.com